

COMMERCIAL LAWYER – CORCORAN FRENCH

About Corcoran French

We walk the talk in caring for our people. Corcoran French is well-known for having an enviable workplace culture - we work hard on this, and we don't take it for granted. You'll find that we're supportive, progressive, flexible and an all-round pretty great bunch of people. Our partners are approachable, inclusive and are focused on ensuring each person is supported, achieves their goals and reaches their potential. In short, at Corcoran French, you really matter.

He angitūtanga | The opportunity

Sometimes the opportunity comes along to be part of something really special, and this is one of those times. Our Christchurch-based Commercial team has a sought-after space for another great lawyer to join its ranks.

As a member of this successful, growing and supportive team, you'll be exposed to matters across all areas of commercial and business law, including negotiations, mergers and acquisitions, procurements, rural, subdivisions, developments and property law, and a growing focus on local government work.

He kōrero mōu | About you

Ideally, we'd like you to have 3-7 years' PQE and to be experienced in a range of the commercial matters described above. It would be really beneficial if you had experience in local government work, and technical expertise in land law. Motivated and ambitious, you'll thrive on being able to work autonomously and on being able to develop and grow great client relationships and business; delivering excellent results, while instilling confidence.

Equally important is your alignment with the values that are at the heart of Corcoran French:

Nōu te rourou | What's in it for you

- Great progression opportunities
- Varied and interesting opportunities from day one
- Competitive remuneration
- Excellent professional development opportunities, plus expert mentoring
- Strong commitment to work/life balance, and a well-used flexible working policy
- Free and reduced legal fees
- Day off for your birthday, and a host of other wellbeing initiatives including an active social club

Working alongside supportive partners who are committed to growing and developing each member of the team, you'll enjoy the fabulous working environment at Corcoran French, and the friendly team. Find out more about life at Corcoran French: <https://cflaw.co.nz/careers/>
